

Karin Mack, Ph.D.

Senior Behavioral Scientist, National Center for Injury Prevention and Control, CDC

Karin Mack, Ph.D. is currently a Senior Behavioral Scientist at CDC's Injury Center on the Prescription Drug Overdose team. She is also an Adjunct Assistant Professor in Emory University's Sociology Department. She has 19 years of Federal Service, has given over 90 scientific presentations, is the author of over 60 publications, and was co-editor of the 2011 book, Healthy & Safe Homes: Research, Practice, & Policy. Dr. Mack's Ph.D. in Sociology is from the University of Maryland, College Park, MD.